INGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PEONUNCIATION. An Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in estonso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously | 57 | attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charactorized Chinese publications.

POST-OFFICE NOTICES.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed [both of which are liable to happen coensionally) all that the addressee reed do is to note on the cover, Sent to _____ or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward in without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end. In consequence of the interruption on the Tramway there will be only one Peak delivery. daily. Letters and parcels may be posted in the General Post Office up to 12 o'clock. No Sunday delivery.

The Postal Guide for 1889, revised to date, will be found in the Daily Press Directory, p. 739 of both aditions, is the only authorised complete Summary of Postal information published in Hongkong.
